Door-to-Door Sales & Finding Licensed Businesses

Door-to-Door solicitors (anyone selling a product / service) are required to register with the Town of Penhold, and their parent company must hold a valid business license.

Before making a purchase or agreeing to work, don't be afraid to ask for identification and proof of a Town of Penhold Business License. If you're ever unsure about a salesperson, contact the Town Office and we'll be happy to confirm whether they're licensed.

If you're looking for a contractor or service provider, the Town's online Business Directory is a great place to start. The Directory includes businesses that hold a valid Town of Penhold Business License and can be searched by category to help you find the services you need.

For residents who do not use a computer or have access to the internet, Town Office staff can provide a list of licensed businesses by service type to help connect you with contractors, home repair companies, landscapers and other service providers. This can be especially helpful following severe weather events, when unlicensed or fraudulent contractors may be more likely to go door-to-door.

If you believe someone is operating without the required license, report the activity to the RCMP non-emergency line, submit an E-Service request through the Town website or leave a message for Community Peace Officers at 403-886-3286.

If you prefer not to receive door-to-door sales visits, consider placing a "No Soliciting" sign at eye level near your front door, gate or entrance. It is suggested you use bold lettering, high-contrast colours and weather-resistant materials to ensure the sign is easy to see.

Be a Yard Angel – Or Let One Help You!

Need a hand with yard work like mowing, pulling weeds or raking leaves? This initiative is all about neighbours helping neighbours.

If you're a senior, someone with mobility challenges, living with a disability, or recovering from an illness or surgery, you can request a Yard Angel Needed sign from FCSS. The sign simply lets the community know that a helping hand would be appreciated.

When you see a Yard Angel sign in someone's yard, consider lending a hand. Whether it's 15 minutes with a rake or a quick mow of the lawn, your kindness can make a big difference.

To learn more or to register for the Yard Angel Program, visit: www.townofpenhold.ca/p/yard-angel-program
